About

Equipped with a wide stern and a fantastic platform to make the most of the space. Ideal to enjoy anchored in a beautiful cove. Katalina was one of the first boats that apart from being designed for proper navigation was also designed with comfort in mind, hence its wide stern with a huge automatic platform to make the most of the space. It has a cabin in the bow with its own bathroom and two cabins in the stern that share a fairly large bathroom. It is prepared so that you always have electricity to charge your devices and has a lounge with a television that can be converted into a huge bed to watch your favourite films with your family and friends.
