About

Its powerful hull has been designed with racing in mind, the Sun Odyssey 410, as the shipyard confirms, offers an exceptional quality of life on board. Taking into account its comfort, the feeling of space and aesthetics, the TOMEU is a high performance sailing yacht, it was built to improve above all efficiency and safety in navigation, but also to increase habitability. As for the cabin, it was possible to create a feeling of union between the exterior and interior with only three small stair steps separating them. All cabins are spacious and very bright, and a large part of the boat has been dedicated to comfort and well-being on board. The engine is powerful and the boat is light, which makes it very easy to manoeuvre, together with a powerful bow thruster and two rudder blades.
